JOHN LaPORTA, presently a member of the faculty at the Berklee College of Music in Boston, received his Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from the Manhattan School of Music. A talented performer and teacher of clarinet, flute, and saxophone, he received expert private instruction from Herman Pade, William Dietrich, Joseph Gigliotti, Leo Russianoff and Robert Morris. Dr. Ernest Toch and Alexis Haieff shared their thorough knowledge of music composition with him, and he has studied jazz improvisation with Lennie Tristano.

During his career as a performer, Mr. LaPorta has ventured into almost every kind of musical experience that can be named. Under the direction of such great conductors as Leopold Stokowski, Igor Stravinsky, and Leonard Bernstein, he has performed with major orchestras throughout this country. He was guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in the premier performance of Teo Macero's "Fusion" (for Symphony orchestra and jazz quintet), and is the clarinet solist on a recording of Igor Stravinsky's "Ebony Concerto." In contrast, he also played with and arranged for such leading jazz bands as those of Woody Herman, Bob Chester, and Charlie Mingus, and performed in a series of radio broadcasts with Charlie Parker, Dizzie Gillespie, Fats Navarro and Max Roach. Several record albums of saxophone ensembles he has organized, composed for, and performed with, serve as additional evidence of Mr. LaPorta's devotion to the artistry of musical performance.

Mr. LaPorta's contributions to the jazz education field have been numerous and invaluable. As the musical director of the Jazz Foundation of America, and as one of the founders of the National Association of Jazz Educators (NAJE), he has helped to give new direction to the teaching of jazz in this country. He has been a faculty member of the National Stage Band Clinics for the past 17 years, has served as a jazz improvisation clinician at the national MENC conventions and has taught privately for over 28 years. In addition, he has written several excellent texts dealing with the various problems jazz educators and students may encounter.
